

National Alliance BULLETIN

POST OFFICE BOX 172 • LAUREL BLOOMERY • TN 37680 • USA

September 2015

Fred and Marta Streed

Visit From the Streets

September has been another month of steady, forward progress in the rebuilding of our Alliance.

One of this month's brightest highlights was a two-week visit by former National Office staffers Fred and Marta Streed who had not been on The Land for 12 years. They stayed in the recently renovated house that they had occupied for years while on staff. We enjoyed a lot of reminiscing with the Streeds about our early years with the National Alliance, and catching up on our lives and the state of the Alliance since then. Long-time members will remember that Mr. Streed was arguably Dr. Pierce's closest, most trusted associate for the last ten years of his life. Dr. Pierce named him president of the National Alliance and also executor of both his and the National Alliance estates.

In his will, Dr. Pierce left Fred the Ford tractor (pictured on page two), his Chevrolet Blazer, and many of his tools when he died.

This month, Fred donated the tractor and many of those much-needed tools, which have been in storage for years, to the National Alliance during his meeting with Chairman Williams. Thank you very much, Mr. and Mrs. Streed!

The Ford 2120 tractor donated by the Streeds has a loader, backhoe, and several other useful attachments that will make our work on the mountain much easier.

McCorkill Will Update

A request has now been filed with the Canadian Supreme Court, asking that the precedent-setting case of Dr. Robert McCorkill's bequest to the National Alliance be heard there.

The will was voided by a lower court because it was deemed to be against Canadian "public policy" for a Canadian to leave his estate to an American "hate group." The decision as to whether Canada's highest court will hear this important case will be decided in the next few months.

Defending the Alliance Against the Malicious NARRG Lawsuit

The Alliance's Virginia attorney filed a lengthy answer to the NARRG grouplet's $2 million fraud claim against former Alliance Chairman Erich Gliebe on September 24. Affirmative defenses questioning NARRG's standing to bring its action against the Alliance and its officers in the first place are argued forcefully in this document. A request was made to the court to dismiss the groundless suit and asking that NARRG should reimburse any and all court costs and attorneys' fees incurred in defending the action, which are now substantial. It's a reasonable assumption that the six co-plaintiffs may be punished for continuing their case against the National Alliance long after the former Chairman, defendant Gliebe, the suit's actual target, resigned from the Alliance. (That Gliebe resign as Chairman was what the former members who are the NARRG co-plaintiffs were originally demanding in their suit.)

Membership Packets

Several members have inquired to the National Office about when they can expect to receive items such as membership cards, Life Rune lapel pins, and their copies of the National Alliance Membership Handbook. We are keeping track of who is due to receive these items, along with a new Membership Survey Form that provides us with information about our members and supporters that will be useful as we continue to organize and network. We are waiting on the publication of the updated edition of the Membership Handbook which we have vowed to make available as soon as editing is completed — and funds are available to order a printing run. All membership items will be mailed together, to all who are entitled, in a membership packet as soon as we are able. Please be patient.

Correspondence

We are encouraged by the number of bulk orders for our Alliance business cards and the new 16-page booklet, Building a New White World, we included with the August BULLETIN. Here are a some of the notes and interesting letters we received this month:

Chairman Williams: Building a New White World is great — first class! I knew our Alliance under the previous leadership had problems, but had no idea they were that bad. Down to just 24 members (I was one of them — little did I know! I thought there were still at least four or five hundred), selling off Dr. Pierce's research library, and another library; his tool shops gone; National Vanguard Books nearly destroyed; ...the bulk of The Land put up for sale; no radio program; Web sites shut down; total neglect of the whole property... disgusting! I'm glad you are now in charge of the National Alliance! — S.R., Virginia

To Chairman Williams and Media Director Strom: Fantastic! Building a New White World arrived this afternoon! Send me 25 copies. WLP lives again! My support check goes out in tomorrow's mail! Well done, guys! — W.H., South Carolina

Sir: I am very impressed with Building a New White World. Both the content and the presentation are excellent. I have to believe this will be an extremely effective recruiting tool and I would like to commend everyone responsible. Respectfully, — G.W., Virginia

Chairman Williams: I received Building a New White World earlier this week, and I have to say that I was blown away! It truly is exceptional. I am sorry that Dr. Pierce is not here to see how you have built on his earlier work. Certainly the job you have done would fill him with pride.

Anyone who has not seen this production should put $3.00 in an envelope and stick in the mail right away. I guarantee you that you will not be disappointed! Do it today! — J.H., Virginia

Hello Chairman Williams: I got my BULLETIN and copy of Building a New White World yesterday, and it's great! It is highly professional and beautifully done. It explains the National Alliance position in clear and articulate terms. You and all the National Alliance staff have every right to be proud of it.

Speaking of the BULLETIN, The August issue is excellent as always. Your tribute to your late mother on the last page is both inspiring and moving, and it is so good to learn that she supported your work. I certainly hope your wife's outstanding letter to Elon Musk gets a favorable response. If only Mr. Musk would step forward for our Cause, the possibilities would be mind-boggling. Thank you for your great life's work, and may it continue for many, many years. — R.O., North Carolina

Dear Chairman Williams: I received the latest BULLETIN along with a copy of Building a New White World and a business card. I mailed this month's pledge and ordered 100 business cards to be mailed to my home. You made mention of how Gliebe attempted to sell Dr. Pierce's library. I don't think that I'm alone in feeling outrage over that act. I also don't think that I'm the only one who is very grateful to you for purchasing the library with money from your own pocket. The National Alliance owes you a great debt of gratitude for your decisive act. We owe to the future generations of the Alliance to implement safeguards to ensure that what Gliebe did as Chairman will be prevented in the future.

The Alliance should maintain a list of recommended reading for its membership. — T.P., Mississippi

Chairman Williams responds: Thank you, TP. The last National Vanguard Books catalog was published in 2005 so is obsolete, but the introduction, "Why National Vanguard Books?" is still a very good outline of Dr. Pierce's recommended reading list. So we have reprinted that article and included it as an insert with each supporter's BULLETIN this month.

It's a shame we can't update and republish that catalog at this time. Rebuilding National Vanguard Books is going to be a long, slow process. As mentioned, we will update and slightly revise Dr. Pierce's 1993 National Alliance Membership Handbook as one of our first NVB projects and get those distributed to our Members before too long.

To the National Alliance National Office: Outstanding job on the new 16-page booklet. $110 enclosed for 100 copies. Also $50 with application for another new member. He will use my address due to his occupation. Keep up the outstanding work on behalf of our race. Sincerely, — J.M., Massachusetts

Chairman Williams: I have seen, over the last 50 years, this beautiful area of the Shenandoah Valley go from overwhelmingly White to now majority non-White with Harrisonburg City Schools now 75% non-White! Taxes have gone through the roof to support this cancer. We are home-schooling as many of our grandchildren as we can, and thankful we can baby-sit other grandchildren under five (so, hopefully, we can make our children feel they can afford to have more).

Did you hear that Putin has outlawed all GMOs? He is a very smart man and is trying to save the Russian people. It really is a shame that so many Americans believe our Jewish-dominated media about him. He is stopping them cold...

Anyway, I'm glad you have taken over the Alliance. I met Dr. Pierce years ago in Northern Virginia — and was teaching and telling his message even before I knew him. Once you become "aware," and I guess it's in our DNA — you can never close your eyes again. It is sad, but I know so many of our people who have been beaten down by the Jew-controlled media and the school system. Our enemies are so afraid that we will attain the critical mass that will enable us to completely break free and survive. Sincerely, — W.S., Virginia

Chairman Williams responds: We are sending you a packet of children's books from our National Vanguard Books stock, W.S., with our best wishes to you for all you do for your family in retirement. Try to find some new Alliance members who feel as you do and we just might reach that critical mass you envision sooner than you think.

Unique Book Offer

Chairman Williams is offering from his personal library a copy of Dr. Pierce's excellent second novel Hunter to those receiving this BULLETIN, to raise much-needed operating expenses for the Alliance. The inscription on the

For Ben Klassen, a
courageous fighter
for our race
W. Pierce
1/17/90

HUNTER

a novel by

Andrew Macdonald

NATIONAL VANGUARD BOOKS

THIS COPY of Hunter was signed by Dr. Pierce in 1990 and inscribed to Ben Klassen.

inside front cover of the book reads: "For Ben Klassen, a courageous fighter for our race. — W.L. Pierce 1/17/90."

Some of you may know that Dr. Pierce wasn't the only man who founded a religion exclusively for White people. In the 1970s, Dr. Pierce founded Cosmotheism, organized as the Cosmotheist Community Church. A few years earlier, Ben Klassen founded another religion for Whites known as Creativity, launching his Church of the Creator in 1972 with the publication of his first book, Nature's Eternal Religion — a book that made an impression on many race-thinkers, including the great Dr. Revilo P. Oliver.

Before Chairman Williams began working for Dr. Pierce as the National Alliance's first Membership Coordinator in 1992, he had served as Ben Klassen's Hasta Primus (Latin for "first spear," a title given to the church's second-in-command) and editor of the Church of the Creator's monthly tabloid, Racial Loyalty, beginning in 1988.

This copy of Hunter was purchased by Chairman Williams from Mr. Klassen's daughter soon after her father's death in 1993, as she settled his estate. There are Mr. Klassen's recognizable underlinings in red felt-tip pen of passages he thought notable throughout the book, as well as some yellow highlighting by Will Williams added later. This copy of Hunter was lent to and read by many of Chairman Williams' Alliance friends over the years.

The price for this unique signed and inscribed copy of Hunter, involving two historic figures of the White resistance, is $1,000. It is being first offered here to our members and supporters only. If not bought by someone receiving this internal Alliance BULLETIN — first come, first served — it will be offered to others through different venues. If you want to purchase this book and help the Alliance grow, write to our regular postal address today.

Commentary by Chairman William White Williams

Challenges and Faith

The first letter in our Correspondence section this month, by S.R. from Virginia, reminds me just how challenging the task I undertook 11 months ago has been.

Had the situation been described to me that way when the Alliance chairmanship was first offered to me, and if my way of viewing my life and the world was entirely personal, I probably would have said, "No thanks, who needs that?" I discussed the offer with my wife and with Kevin Strom; with my attorney and a few key friends and former Alliance members; and with their nods of support and encouragement, I accepted the challenge. Like Dr. Pierce would say: It was necessary and it was the right thing to do. Saying "no" was not an option.

So many seemingly insurmountable problems faced us. S.R. doesn't mention the tens of thousands of dollars in debt and back taxes that had to be satisfied, or the lack of even one staff member on the West Virginia property. Bank accounts had been emptied and we faced penalties for more than 50 overdrafts by my predecessor before we could open new ones.

S.R. also doesn't mention the $2 million lawsuit we inherited: On my first day as Chairman I held out an olive branch to the former members, now NARRG co-plaintiffs, and told them it was time to close ranks, to drop their lawsuit, and work together to rebuild the near-dead National Alliance. My offer was spurned by them and they soon turned their sights on me, determined to have the court dissolve the Alliance in the hope that they could get their hands on whatever assets remained after a court "receiver" reorganized the corporation.

As our members and other supporters well know by now, we embrace and have returned to the Cosmotheist world view of Dr. Pierce. It forms the bedrock ideology of the Alliance again after being abandoned by former chairman Gliebe. I knew that Shaun Walker, a Mormon, was more behind that disastrous decision than was Gliebe, but didn't know the full story until discussing it at length with Fred Streed, who, with his wife Marta, were run off the property back in 2003 by Gliebe and Walker after Fred had served here faithfully and with distinction for 11 years. They had purchased land adjacent to the National Office and had built a home — but were driven away in a shameful display of thug-like behavior.

I knew that NARRG honcho Jim Ring had introduced Shaun Walker into the Alliance back in the 1990s, having met him earlier at Jost Turner's Volksberg intentional White community in California. Jost described Ring and his cohorts like this in a letter to Dr. Pierce in 1993:

"Almost as soon as they arrived, these 'neo-nazis' wiped out everything we had accomplished with pointless flag-burnings, intimidations, threats, violence (against Aryan women!), and of course parading around in their childish 'White Power' T-shirts. These media-scripted un-Aryan activities were all directed at whites, most of whom had no interest at all in urban racial problems."

Jost went on to tell Dr. Pierce that Ring was a "troublemaker," and credited him with destroying the community he had been carefully building by alienating his people with what he described as "Hollywood Nazi antics."

Mr. Streed tells me that Jim Ring used to brag to him that it was he — not Walker, not Gliebe — who was behind the removal of the five pages of Dr. Pierce's National Alliance Membership Handbook that identified Christianity as an ideology that was opposed to the ideology of the National Alliance.

Learning that from Fred was like hearing the other shoe drop. All of a sudden it all made sense. I could now see the motive behind some of Ring's irrational attacks on the Alliance, as in the following rant he posted on his nearly-illiterate NARRG Internet blog:

Both Will Williams and Kevin Strom lately seem to be bent on a path of religious tyranny in apparently insisting that the National Alliance (NA) and all of its members be exclusively of the Cosmotheist religious faith and/or putting in place a NA membership requirement of having a personal philosophical world view of Cosmotheism... Thus has Mr. Williams lately become a bigoted religious zealot, an evangelist so to speak for his and Mr. Strom's variety of personal religious faith? Does he now want to rigidly proselytize his own personal views on religion as an exclusive requirement for his "New Alliance" which he claims is no different than Dr. Pierce's "Old Alliance" before Mr. Gliebe took over in 2002 after Dr. Pierce death?

Utter nonsense. Kevin Strom and I were both attracted to Dr. Pierce's Cosmotheism, yes, as were many other members and leaders. It forms the basis for our efforts and our values. But the Alliance is a place for White men and women who put race first, and unanimity on spiritual matters has never been required.

Ring and his co-plaintiffs also claim that, "according to several published sources" Dr. Pierce had "evolved beyond Cosmotheism" after the 1980s.

That is an outright lie: Dr. Pierce's world view and spiritual foundation were Cosmotheist up to the moment of his dying breath: For example, as we prepare to republish the Membership Handbook, we are incorporating the changes made by Dr. Pierce in 2002, just months before he died. In this, the last edition edited by Dr. Pierce, the section defining Christianity as an opposed ideology — the very section that Ring boasted he lobbied Shaun Walker to remove — was still very much intact.

In 2002, Dr. Pierce's Our Cause, with its profound Cosmotheist basis, was being advertised and sold in the National Vanguard Books catalog (where it eventually appeared as a full-text article, too), as was his Cosmotheism: Wave of the Future and numerous other Cosmotheist works. There was no abandonment.

Where, I ask, are the supposed "published sources" stating that Dr. Pierce abandoned Cosmotheism? Do they exist anywhere except on Ring's blog and Facebook page?

The truth is that Dr. Pierce's Cosmotheist belief system runs through everything he wrote up until he died. And all those who worked with him on a daily basis — Fred Streed, Kevin Strom, myself, and others — know that fact.

As I wrote on nationalvanguard.org: "My new direction for our Alliance will look more like the old direction:

the scrupulously honest Cosmotheist direction that attracted me and so many others to Dr. Pierce's teachings and program... It is that foundation upon which we will continue to build as long as I'm Chairman. Do not look to me to compromise on Dr. Pierce's perfectly sound Cosmotheist world view, his philosophy — his religion, if you will."

I stand behind what I wrote. The National Alliance program is grounded in the philosophy of Dr. Pierce and will remain so. There is only one way forward: Dr. Pierce's hard but realistic way, based on a faith so strong it can move mountains, achieving what others say is impossible, and moving ever forward against overwhelming odds. That is what sets the National Alliance apart and above Jim Ring's NARRG grouplet and the rest of the so-called "movement."

W. W. W.

REMINDER

Occasionally we must remind our supporters, particularly new ones, to make checks, money orders, and other payments for dues and donations payable to the National Alliance and payments for items such as cards, booklets, fliers, etc., payable to National Vanguard Books. Though related, the Alliance and National Vanguard Books are separate corporations with separate bank accounts, so it helps considerably when we can deposit to the correct accounts initially rather than having to make transfers to allocate payments to the rightful accounts. We also accept donations to the Cosmotheist Community Church, which has its own account.